William Hollenberger, of Bean's Cove, was killed in a runaway accident Saturday night. The deceased and is wife were driving from Cumberland to Six Mile House when, in going down a steep hill, a bale of hay fell against the brake of the heavy farm Co wagon and prevented it from working. The horses became frightened and suddenly started to run, nearly throwing Mrs. Hollenberger out. In trying to save his wife Mr. Holienberger was hurled to the ground, falling at the norses' feet. He was trampled upor over his body. The horses continued to run until one of them fell, when to her husband and found that he was dead. His chest and face were crushed, his back was broken and his ribs were dislocated. County Sunday School Convention

The ninth annual convention of the Bedford County Sabbath School association will be held in the Reformed church of Saxton on Thursday and Friday, June 13 and 14. All Sunday schools of Bedford county are members of this association and are urged to send two delegates to represent them in the convention. These delegates should be elected by the schools as soon as possible and their names sent to some member of the committee on entertainment. This committee is omposed of the superintendents of the various echools of Saxton and their names will appear on the programme which will be ready for distriontion in about ten days. An excellent programme has been prepared, which assures a rich feast to all Sunday school workers. Now is the time for Sunday school teachers and workers to begin to plan for the convention. The state workers who will be with us this year are Hugh Cork, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. J. W. Barnes, of Philadelphia. The schools should fill out the statistical blanks, already sent them, and forward to Prof. C. J. Potts, of Bedford, as soon as possible Contributions for the work should be sent to Rev. C. B. Heller, of Everett, who is the county treasurer.

Pitcairn's Marriage Disputed. From Wednesday's Pittsburg Press

we glean the following:

R. V. Fitcairn, committee of Albert Pitcairn, a lunatic, now confined in the Dixmont asylum, whose estate is estimated to be worth nearly $200,000, is contesting the petition of Mrs. Mary Pitcairn for an allowance for the support of herself and husband. It is alleged that Mary Pitcairn, who married Albert Pitcairn is Bedford county, is not his lawfur wife, and that the pretended marriage was preserted by fraud on her part. Pitcairn was a well-known Pittsburg tailor. Last week the wife filed her petition in court, asking for an allowance of $2,400 a year, and a rule was granted on the committee to show cause why her prayer should not be granted. In the answer it is set forth that prior to August 29, 1897, Mary Pitcairn lived with Charles Prout. Prior to that date, it is stated, Albert Pitcairn was, by reason of insanity, incapable of contracting marriage, which insane condition of mind has been found by inquisition to have existed for four years and upward prior to the date of the inquisition. The answer continues: 'That the said Mary Prout, sometimes called Mary Lutton, entired the gaid Albert Pitcairn, so being of unsound mind as aforee glean the following: "That the said mary Front, sometimes can-ed Mary Lutton, entieed the said Albert Fit-cairn, so being of unsound mind as afore-said, to New Paris, Bedford county, Pa., where she had said Albert Pitcairn make affidavit before one D. F. Wonder, a justice affidavit before one D. F. Wonder, a just of the peace, on the second day of Augu 1897, on which affidavit she procured license from the orphans' court of said Bed-ford county on the 26th day of August, 1897, and on the 29th day of August, 1897, aused and procured one J. W. Richards, clergyman, to perform a merriege ceremony between the said Albert Pitcairs and the said Mary Prout, sometimes called Mary Lutton."

TOM JOHNSON'S O, has been focus-TALK.

Mark Hanna's home ever since he was elected on a threecent street-car fare platform. Mayor Johnson has a habit of hitting straight from the shoulder and never minces matters. He recently gave the county auditors of Cuyahega county a curtain lecture which they will not soon forget. The auditors had decided to leave the valuation of the property of a certain railroad at the nominal figure at which it had previously stood, and this decision furnished a topic for Mr. Johnson's talk. "The company taxes is unfair and unconstitutional. It will be questioned in the courts. I appear before you not as a private citizen, but as mayor of Cleveland, knowing whereof I speak, and accusing you openly. "Not only do you, the county auditors, ride on railroad passes, but they are used by judges and state officials. No man with a railroad pass in his pocket can honestly fix the taxes s railroad should pay. "Your oath of office requires you to assess the value of railroad property at par. You assess it at 12 per cent., or one-ninth of its true worth. Thus you commit perjury. "Don't you think you have flung away enough of the people's millions in these railroad charities? The city of Cleveland loses from $20,000 to $30,-000 a year through your neglect to tax If you want to throw money away don't give it to railroads." This had the effect of raising the valuation of the road by 15 per cent. "The mayor had no legal authority to intervene," says the Pittsburg Post, "but he had plenty of plain speech."

Superstitious Great Men.

Superstition has not only prevented mankind from attaining a superior eminence of happiness, but what is more denlorable, it has added in a great degree to an already extensive catalogue of earthly miseries. It is not by the Medical Discovery ignorant alone that superstitious be-liefs are entertained, but by many eminent men of the past and present. Dr. Samuel Johnson was a firm believer in ghosts and second sight. Josephus, the great Jewish historian, relates that he saw the extraordinary sight of an evil spirit being induced to leave the body of an afflicted mortal upon the application of Solomon's scal to the patient's nostril. Most curious are the sewing or tailor birds of India-little yellow things not much larger than one's thum. To escape falling a prey to snakes and monkeys the tailor bird picks up a dead leaf and flies up into a high tree, and with a über for a thread and its bill for a needle sews the leaf on to a green one banging from the tree. The sides are sewed up, an opening being left at the top. That a nest is swinging in the tree no snake or monkey of even man would suspect. Many a regiment cannot compare by perfection of movement with the flight

o compass in a strange sea on a stat All very young birds, by a wise provision of nature, are entirely without fear until they are able to fly. The reason of the delayed development of fear is that, being unable to fly, the birds would struggle and fall from their nests at every noise and be killed. Suddenly, almost in a day, the birds develop the sense of fear, when their feathers are enough grown so that they can fly. It is always a source of wonder to arctic explorers to find such quantities singing birds within the arctic circle. They are abundant beyond belief. But the immense crop of cranberries, crowberries and cloudberries that ripen in the northern swamps accounts for the presence of the birds. A stick of wood seven inches long and a quarter of an inch in diameter was once taken from a wren's nest. It is very singular that so small and delicate a bird should use such rough ma terial with which to construct its nest If an eagle should use material proportioned to its size, its nest would be made up of fence rails and small saw logs. The extraordinary situations which rests are found occasionally a! most give one the impression that birds must be endowed with a sense of bumor. For instance, a wren built its nest upon a scarecrow, a dead sparrow hawk, which a farmer had hung up to frighten away winged ravagers of his eron. In the pocket of an old jacket hanging in a barn a blid, also a wren made its nest, which when discovered contained five eggs. It was a robin that raised a young family in a church pew and a robin that built its nest in the organ pipes of a church. Places of worship have always been favorit-

From the remotest ages the egg ha been looked upon as the symbol of creation, or new birth. According to the Persians, the world was hatched from an egg at that season of the year which corresponds to the vernal equinox Hence the Parsees still exchange gifts of colored eggs at the new year festi val, which they celebrate at this date Among the Jews the egg entered into all the mysterious ceremonies called apocalyptic and occupied a prominen sition on the household table during the paschal season. Christianity in vested the paschal egg with a new sig nificance-namely, that of the resurrection of Christ, and it was colored red in allusion to his blood shed for sinners on the cross. A curious custom in mediæval church es, for priests and choristers to join in a game of hall at Eastertide, took its rise from the Easter egg, which was thrown from one to the other of the choristers in the nave of the church while an anthem was being sung. As a missed egg meant a smashed egg, the more durable handball was substituted But the smashing of eggs continu as a form of outdoor sport. Survivals are to be found among all Teuton and Angle-Saxon people. A popula game in England and Germany consists in hitting one egg against another, the egg that survives uncracked winning for its owner the weaker an tagonist, until an entire basket of eggs may have changed ownership. Another game is to trundle eggs down a bill or slope, those which reach the bottom uncracked being similarly victorious

May 22.—Rev. W. A. Steele preached a very impressive sermon to a large congregation in the church here Sunday morning. His theme was the "Barren Fig Tree." He made a vivid illustration of the barren fig tree and the unfruitful professor of Christianity; he made it plain how God in His infinite mercy lengthened out the lives of the idle and careless that they might still bear the fruit of righteousness. The entire congregation was not only delighted butgreatly benefited by being present to hear the truth.

THE NEW FISH LAWS.

Are of Direct Interest To Near

"The new laws relating to fish enacted by the legislature are of direct interest to nearly every one in the state," says the Philadelphia Public Ledger. "A very large proportion of the male population fishes to a greater or less extent for pleasure or profit, and therefore, the new laws concern it more closely, perhaps, than many others enacted by the legislature. The provisions of the act should be studied as oon as copies are obtainable, because they become operative at once. The new act is regarded by those who take a real interest in the maintenance of an abundant supply of game and food fish as the best ever placed on the statute books The whole subject of fish protection seems to be thoroughly covered and there is an evident desire to be just and liberal to both sporting and commercial interests. "There are many radical differences between the new and old act, which fishermen need to note carefully. This is particularly the case with respect to the open and close seasons for gan e fish and the minimum size of the latt r which may be legally killed For exexample, the black bass season and that of pike, pickerel, pike-perch or Susquebanns salmon, rock and calico bass does not open hereafter until June 15. Sunfish, hitherto an unprotected fish, has been placed among the game fishes and given the same open and close season as the other fishes just mentioned While the open season for black bass is delayed for two weeks, the close sea son does not begin until February 15 instead of December 31, as formerly Under the new act black bass may not be killed less than 7 inches in length The trout season will open, as formerly, on April 15, but will not close until inches in length. "Under the new law, game fishes are elearly defined, and no device may be used to catch them, except rod, hook and line, or hand line, having not more than three hooks. Specific devices, some hitherto prohibited, may be used to eatch catfish, suckers and eels at certain or any time of the year under stipulated restrictions. Among them may be mentioned outlines, fyke nets and dip nets. A section of great importance forbids any person, under heavy penalty, to apply for any game fish, to be planted in any waters in which the public are not allowed to fish. Anther declares that wherever an owner applies for game fish for a stream, the waters thereafter shall be free to pub-

A FEW Suggestions About Clothing.

$6666666666666666666

YOUR NEW SPRING SUIT should feel easy while sitting or walking. Trousers must hang well-they should not wrinkle or bag at the knees when standing-vest must set right and not pucker up when stooping—coat should fit your form perfectly; it ought not to must set right and not pucker up when stoopingbecome shapeless when unbuttoned. And above all, the Suit must look well Good judges say our othing this season approaches this ideal very closely—so much for the points relating to ease

Now For Durability And Economy:

It requires a vast amount of experience, combined with good judgment, to select fabrics that will stand the test of sunshine and storm, wear and tear, and yet retain their color and shape. The knowing HOW enables us to get the best, and we know of no better Clothing anywhere, and then, too, underneath it all, is big value for your money. Your dollars are at a premium in our store, because you get more and better value than you can possibly get elsewhere. We are satisfied with a smaller margin of profit than others demand. We cannot 🔊 afford to charge high prices. We want to win and retain your trade. We expect to see you again next season.

Finally, by honest, earnest and intelligent effort we hope not only to secure YOUR patronage, but that of your friends 👗 Consider this a cordial invitation to come and inspect also.
